THE HEADLINE NUMBER

إ.د 37,905

Estimated revenue from one 21-day launch of a three-tier ladder — a إ.د 49 guide, a إ.د 297 course and a 15-seat إ.د 1,500 cohort.

High scenario. The conservative case is إ.د 14,429 and the floor case, if your reach stays exactly where it is today, is إ.د 4,678. Every figure is an estimate and every step of the maths is shown on page 4.

ACCOUNTS FOLLOWED

Read those two middle numbers together. Nine likes against seven comments is close to a one-to-one ratio, and that is unusual. It tells you that the small number of people currently seeing your work do not scroll past — they answer. You do not have a demand problem. You have a distribution problem, and a list you have not built yet.

YOUR THREE CONTENT PILLARS

I. Etiquette in motion

Posture, body language, how you sit, bend, walk and pick something up. Taught as demonstration, not theory. This is the pillar that sells.

II. Modest elegance

Colour palettes, pleated skirt styling, dressing for the occasion. Saveable, shareable, and the easiest way in for a new follower.

III. Adab and inner poise

The Etiquette & Islam series, the power of never having to prove yourself, calm as a form of authority. Plenty of accounts teach cutlery. Almost none teach refinement with faith at the centre. This is your differentiator and it belongs in every paid offer you build.

SECTION ONE, CONTINUED

What is working, and what is in the way

Based on the twelve most recent posts on your public profile.

THE CONTENT THAT WORKS

- Single-detail demonstration videos. How you pick something up when it falls. Masculine versus feminine body language. One small movement, shown and corrected. These reported the highest view counts in the sample (28 and 20 views).
- Saveable carousels. Your top two posts by likes in the sample were both carousels — seven pleated skirt colours (13 likes, 10 comments) and reading a formal table setting (10 likes, 8 comments).
- Series framing. Opening the Etiquette & Islam series gave your audience a reason to return rather than a reason to scroll.

THE BOTTLENECK

At 0.06% engagement, roughly sixteen people interact with a typical post. A launch cannot be run on that, and the revenue model in this document does not pretend otherwise: it is built on rebuilding reach and then owning the audience off-platform, exactly as the launch sequence requires.

THREE FIXES, IN ORDER

#	FIX	WHY
1	Post the single-detail demonstration four times a week	It is your only format with native replay value and the only one the algorithm can spread.
2	End every post with one word to reply	Your comment-to-like ratio says this audience answers. Give them something to answer.
3	Move every replier into a private WhatsApp or Telegram group now	The launch runs inside the group, not in the feed. Build it before you build a product.

Fix three is the one that makes the headline number possible. Everything after this page assumes you start it this week.

SECTION TWO

Where the number comes from

Followers × share reached in the launch window × conversion × price. Nothing else. Follower count is public data; every other input is a stated estimate.

THE INPUTS

INPUT	LOW	HIGH	BASIS
Followers	25,990	25,990	Public data
Share reached across a 21-day launch (feed, stories, group)	5%	10%	Estimate, assumes the three fixes on page 3 are in place
People reached	1,300	2,600	Calculated, rounded to the nearest ten
Guide conversion at £ 49	2.5%	3.0%	Estimate
Course conversion at £ 297	1.0%	1.5%	Estimate
Cohort conversion at £ 1,500	0.5%	1.0%	Estimate, capped at 15 seats

THE ARITHMETIC

TIER	WORKING	BUYERS	REVENUE
Guide — low	$1,300 \times 2.5\% = 32.5 \rightarrow 32 \times £ 49$	32	1,568
Guide — high	$2,600 \times 3.0\% = 78 \times £ 49$	78	3,822
Course — low	$1,300 \times 1.0\% = 13 \times £ 297$	13	3,861
Course — high	$2,600 \times 1.5\% = 39 \times £ 297$	39	11,583
Cohort — low	$1,300 \times 0.5\% = 6.5 \rightarrow 6 \times £ 1,500$	6	9,000
Cohort — high	$2,600 \times 1.0\% = 26, \text{ capped at } 15 \times £ 1,500$	15	22,500

Buyer counts are rounded down to whole people. Revenue is gross, before platform and payment fees.

SECTION TWO, CONTINUED

The three scenarios

One launch window of 21 days. All three figures are estimates.

SCENARIO	REACH ASSUMPTION	GUIDE	COURSE	COHORT	TOTAL
Floor	400 people reached	490	1,188	3,000	4,678
Conservative	1,300 people reached	1,568	3,861	9,000	14,429
High	2,600 people reached	3,822	11,583	22,500	37,905

Floor case uses the same low conversion rates against 400 people reached: $400 \times 2.5\% = 10$ guides, $400 \times 1\% = 4$ courses, $400 \times 0.5\% = 2$ cohort seats. That is roughly twenty-five times your current per-post interaction count, so it is deliberately pessimistic.

WHAT A SCEPTIC SHOULD ASK

QUESTION	ANSWER
Your engagement is 0.06%. How can 1,300 people see a launch?	They cannot, today. The reach assumption is conditional on the three fixes on page 3 and on a private group that lets you reach people directly rather than hoping for distribution.
Are buyers counted twice across tiers?	The model counts purchases, not people. Someone who buys the guide and then the cohort appears in both rows, which is how ladder revenue actually accrues.
Why cap the cohort at 15?	Because the promise is personal review of your posture and movement. Beyond fifteen it stops being deliverable and the second intake suffers.
Is this one-off or repeatable?	The guide and course sell continuously once built. The cohort is the part that repeats as a launch, two to three times a year.

SECTION THREE

The product ladder

Three price points, one subject. Each rung answers the objection the rung below it creates.

TIER	OFFER	PRICE	WHO IT IS FOR	REVENUE RANGE
I	The Quiet Signal Digital guide	49	The follower who saves your carousels and wants the rules in one place.	1,568 – 3,822
II	Modern Class Self-paced course	297	The woman preparing for a new role, a new city or a new circle who wants to be taught properly.	3,861 – 11,583
III	The Presence Cohort 4 weeks live · 15 seats	1,500	The few who want your eyes on their posture, their table, their entrance.	9,000 – 22,500
Per launch window				14,429 – 37,905

Build order

Cohort first. It is the offer your launch sequence is written for, it needs no production, and fifteen paying students tell you exactly what belongs in the course. Then the guide, because it is a week of work from content you already own. The course last, filmed from the cohort recordings.

Why the prices sit here

The guide is an impulse yes. The course is a considered yes at a price a working professional in Abu Dhabi will not need to justify. The cohort is an application, not a checkout — scarcity is the mechanism your Phase 5 and Phase 6 depend on.

All revenue ranges are estimates derived from the arithmetic on page 4.

SECTION FOUR · OFFER DETAIL

Tiers one and two

I. The Quiet Signal

₹ 49

A 24-page guide to the details that read before you speak.

What is inside: the posture reset; sitting, standing and rising without adjustment; how to bend and how to pick something up; walking mechanics; hands, gaze and stillness; reading a formal table setting; and a seven-day drill with one detail per day.

The promise: you will walk into a room and stop wondering what your body is telling people.

First step: take the ten demonstration videos you have already posted, pull one still and one rule from each, and write the guide in a week. Sell it from your bio link and from the end of every demonstration video.

II. Modern Class

₹ 297

A self-paced course in elegance, taught as a skill rather than a personality.

Five modules, thirty short lessons: Posture and movement · Dining and hosting · Conversation, greetings and introductions · Dressing for the occasion and colour · Adab and inner poise, where calm and self-respect are taught as the foundation of everything above.

The promise: a complete, ordered framework so nothing about how you carry yourself is left to guesswork.

First step: do not film anything yet. Run the cohort live, record every session, and cut the course from those recordings. Add a printable workbook and one monthly question-and-answer call for the first two intakes only.

Revenue estimates for these tiers: ₹ 1,568 — 3,822 and ₹ 3,861 — 11,583 per launch window.

Tier three — the flagship

This is the offer the six-phase launch in your audit was written for.

III. The Presence Cohort

1,500 · 15 SEATS

Four weeks, live, by application. Fifteen women, refined in person.

The promise: in four weeks you will move, sit, greet and host with a calm that reads as authority — and you will have had it corrected by someone watching.

WEEK	LIVE SESSION	WHAT THEY DO BETWEEN SESSIONS
One	Posture, stillness and the entrance	Film a 30-second walk and entrance; submit for review
Two	Movement: sitting, rising, bending, the dropped object	Submit the three movement drills
Three	The table: formal dining, hosting, serving, declining gracefully	Host one meal and report back
Four	Voice, greeting, introductions and adab in public life	One 1-to-1 review with you, then graduation

MECHANICS

- Application, not checkout. A short form, then a DM conversation. This is where your Phase 5 conversions happen.
- The time-limited bonus, as your Phase 2 promises: the first five accepted applicants receive a private recorded presence review of their own footage.
- Doors close and stay closed. Reopening costs you the next launch.

Estimated revenue per intake: 1,500 9,000 (6 seats) to 22,500 (15 seats, sold out).

SECTION FIVE

The launch plan

Twenty-one days, six phases. Phases two to six are the sequence from your audit; phase one is the validation step that comes before them.

Phase 1
DAYS 1–7

Validation

Publish the test carousel on page 11 and nothing else about the offer. Four demonstration videos that week, each ending with the same reply word. Do not build, film or price anything until people are raising their hands.

Phase 2
DAYS 8–11

Invitation

Announce that it is on the way and invite your audience into a private group on WhatsApp or Telegram where all details will be revealed. Tease the time-limited exclusive bonus. Every replier from phase one gets a personal invitation by DM.

Phase 3
DAYS 12–16

Anticipation

Build curiosity inside the group. Tease what is coming, share the results people can achieve, and make the timeline crystal clear — so everyone is ready to act the moment doors open.

WHAT TO POST DURING PHASES ONE TO THREE

FORMAT	CADENCE	ENDING
Single-detail demonstration video	4 × per week	One reply word
Saveable carousel (colour, occasion, table)	1 × per week	Link to the private group
Stories: behind the offer, questions answered	Daily from day 8	Group invitation sticker

SECTION FIVE, CONTINUED

The launch plan — the close

These five days decide the number on page one.

Phase 4 DAY 17

Reveal

Deliver the full breakdown: what is included, the exclusive bonus, the price, and the open and close dates. Leave no doubt about what is on offer.

Phase 5 DAYS 18–20

Conversion

Send the application link for one of the limited spots, run a poll to see who is in or has questions, and follow up one-to-one in the DMs with everyone who raises a hand — that is where most conversions happen.

Phase 6 DAY 21

Urgency

Countdown messages at 24h, 12h, 6h, 2h and closed, that make them visualise exactly what they lose by staying out. The close must be real — reopening destroys credibility for the next launch.

WHERE THE GUIDE AND COURSE SIT IN ALL THIS

MOMENT	OFFER	WHY THERE
Day 17, alongside the reveal	The Quiet Signal, £ 49	Gives the people who cannot spend 1,500 a way to say yes, and builds your buyer list for the next intake.
Day 21, at the close	Modern Class, £ 297	Offered to everyone who applied but did not take a seat. Same teaching, no personal review, open now.

Sequencing the three tiers inside one window is what produces the £ 14,429 — 37,905 estimate rather than cohort revenue alone.

SECTION SIX

The first post

Post this carousel before you build anything. Black background, white text, three slides, no branding.

SLIDE 1 · THE HOOK

You dress with care. Yet when you walk into an important room, you still wonder if your posture gives away your doubt.

SLIDE 2 · THE AGITATION

True elegance is never about buying louder clothes. It is revealed in the quiet details: how you sit, how you bend, and how you hold space when all eyes turn to you. Awkwardness happens when your habits betray your intentions.

SLIDE 3 · CURIOSITY AND CALL TO ACTION

What if you had an exact framework to refine your posture, movement and presence with effortless calm? Reply “I WANT” if this resonates with you.

CAPTION

Elegance is a learned language. Presence is not loud. If the quiet details are what you want to master, reply I WANT and I will tell you what is coming.

STORY FOLLOW-UP, SAME DAY

One slide, one question: “Which betrays you most — your posture, your hands, or your walk?” Three poll options. Reply to every answer.

MY DECISION RULE

A suggestion, not a statistic. Give it seven days and count the replies.

- 25 or more: open the private group and run the cohort launch.
- 10 to 24: open the group, keep posting demonstrations for two more weeks, then launch.
- Under 10: the offer is right, the hook is not. Test three more hooks before you build.

CLOSING

What to do next

You have 25,990 people who followed you for one thing, and an audience that answers when it sees you. The work is not more content. It is a list, an offer and a close.

THIS WEEK	ACTION
Day 1	Post the validation carousel on page 11 exactly as written.
Days 2–5	Four single-detail demonstration videos, each ending with the same reply word.
Day 6	Open the private WhatsApp or Telegram group and invite every replier personally.
Day 7	Count the replies, apply the decision rule, and set your open and close dates.
Week 2	Write the cohort application form. Nothing needs to be built to sell it.

Reply to this DM and I'll walk you through the numbers and what to build first.
