You coach parents of teens past “fine”: the right setting and the right timing for the talks that matter.

$1,392 to $72,000

ESTIMATE · FROM FOUR PRODUCTS

The bottom of the range is the ebook sales; the top is a full year of one-to-one coaching for your 48 estimated buyers (48 x $1,500), since 48 buyers is fewer than the 120 places a year at 20 hours a week.

$6,050

MEAN · ESTIMATE

$36,696

MID-RANGE · ESTIMATE

($1,392 + $72,000) / 2

Assumptions: 5% of followers are engaged and 5% of those buy (48 buyers); group coaching is 2 to 8 people per 8-week cohort; one-to-one is 1 to 20 hours a week; the maximum is a full year of six 8-week blocks, capped at your 48 buyers. Median and mean count each coaching product at the middle of its 8-week range.

You film the lessons and run the sessions. We host and run everything else, with nothing to pay upfront.

The content that works

Your biggest recent post is the 10 PM “Are you asleep?” carousel: 6,457 likes and 83 comments (public data). It names a moment every parent of a teen recognises: the house is finally quiet, you have just sat down, and that is when they want to talk. The backpack-note post (936 likes) works the same way. The posts that travel are about when and where teens open up, which is exactly the subject of your coaching.

“Some settings definitely make certain conversations feel easier—like in the car, during a walk, or even side-by-side doing something together rather than sitting face-to-face. Timing and how the conversation is approached can matter just as much.”

You, in a message to Autora (26 September).

Three content pillars

1

The moment they talk

“Are you asleep?” at 10 PM, the “Fine” on the couch after school, the car, the walk.

2

Holding back the fixer

Your inner fixer, the grades conversation, not swooping in with a list of what to change.

3

Notes to your teen

The backpack note and the quiet reminders you wish you could slip them on hard days.

Observed: a live one-to-one offer behind your TidyCal coffee-chat link, and rounds of free one-to-one coaching for parents and teens.

Inferred, not yet confirmed by you: each free round reaches a few families. A product on the same approach would reach the parents who don't get a spot. You haven't stated a capacity limit, so that is the question to test.

THE WORKING

Where the number comes from

Every figure in this audit is an estimate built from one public number, your follower count, and the same fixed model Autora uses for every creator. Here it is step by step.

F · Followers

19,383

Public data from your profile

E · Engaged audience

969

5% of F: $19,383 \times 0.05 = 969.15$, rounded down

B · Buyers

48

5% of E: $969 \times 0.05 = 48.45$, rounded down

The four products

PRODUCT	PRICE	RESTS ON	REVENUE (ESTIMATE)
Ebook	$29	48 buyers	$48 \times $29 = $1,392$
Online course	$200	48 buyers	$48 \times $200 = $9,600$
Group coaching (8 weeks)	$500	2 to 8 people per cohort	$1,000 to $4,000 per cohort
One-to-one (8 weeks)	$1,500	1 to 20 hours a week	$1,500 to $30,000 per 8 weeks

With 48 buyers, there are enough people to fill a full cohort of 8 and a full one-to-one week of 20 clients, so neither 8-week range needs capping.

The coaching ranges, per 8 weeks and per year

Group coaching

Per cohort: $2 \times $500 = $1,000$ up to $8 \times $500 = $4,000$.

A year: six 8-week cohorts hold up to 48 places (8×6). You have 48 buyers, which fills them exactly: $48 \times $500 = \text{$24,000 a year}$.

One-to-one coaching

Per 8 weeks: $1 \times $1,500 = $1,500$ up to $20 \times $1,500 = $30,000$.

A year: six blocks at 20 hours a week hold up to 120 places. With 48 buyers, one-to-one could make you $48 \times $1,500 = \text{$72,000 a year}$.

THE WORKING, CONTINUED

The range and the averages

Minimum

$1,392

Always the ebook sales: 48 x $29

Maximum

$72,000

The biggest year figure: one-to-one, 48 x $1,500 (bigger than group at $24,000 and the course at $9,600)

Median

$6,050

Figures in order: $1,392, $2,500, $9,600, $15,750. Mean of the two middle ones: $($2,500 + $9,600) / 2$

Mean

$7,310.50

 $($1,392 + $9,600 + $2,500 + $15,750) / 4 = $29,242 / 4$

Mid-range

$36,696

 $(\text{minimum} + \text{maximum}) / 2 = ($1,392 + $72,000) / 2$

For the median and mean, each coaching product is counted at the middle of its 8-week range: group coaching at $($1,000 + $4,000) / 2 = $2,500$, one-to-one at $($1,500 + $30,000) / 2 = $15,750$. The mid-range uses the year maximum. All five are estimates.

On one scale

Solid bars: the ebook and course totals, and each coaching product's 8-week range. Lighter shading: what a full year of six 8-week blocks adds.

WHAT TO SELL

The product ladder

You already teach one family at a time. The first two steps carry the same idea, the right setting and the right timing, to more parents without more of your hours; the coaching steps are for parents who want you with them.

$29
EBOOK

Beyond “Fine”

The settings and timing that get teens talking (the car, the walk, side by side), with openers for each. For the parent getting one-word answers who wants something to try tonight.

48 x $29 = $1,392 (estimate)

$200
ONLINE COURSE

The right place, the right moment

A self-paced course on choosing the setting and the moment for the talks that matter. For parents who want to understand the approach, not just borrow a line.

48 x $200 = $9,600 (estimate)

$500
GROUP COACHING

Parents of teens, 8 weeks together

An online group programme in 8-week cohorts of 2 to 8 parents, with live sessions on their own conversations. For parents who want you in the room while they try it.

$1,000 to $4,000 per cohort; $24,000 a year (48 x $500) (estimate)

$1,500
ONE-TO-ONE

Your one-to-one work, paid

The paid, 8-week version of the one-to-one work you already do with parents and teens: one hour a week per client. For the families who want you on their situation alone.

$1,500 to $30,000 per 8 weeks; $72,000 a year with 48 buyers (estimate)

PRODUCT	PRICE	FORMAT	YOUR TIME	FIGURE (ESTIMATE)
Ebook	$29	Download	Confirm it	$1,392
Course	$200	Self-paced video	Film once	$9,600
Group	$500	8-week cohort	Live sessions	$24,000 / yr
One-to-one	$1,500	8 weeks, 1 hr/wk	Live sessions	$72,000 / yr

Your TidyCal coffee chat stays where it is, as the front door to the coaching steps. It carries no revenue figure here.

THE SPLIT

Who does what

Autora hosts and runs everything: the format, the build, the platform and hosting, the checkout and payments, delivery, the marketing and the backend. There is nothing to pay upfront; Autora is paid from a share of what the products make.

Your part

EBOOK

Confirm you're happy for it to go out. Next to no work.

ONLINE COURSE

Film the lessons on the right setting and the right moment, and send Autora the footage.

GROUP COACHING

Run the live sessions with each cohort of 2 to 8 parents.

ONE-TO-ONE

Run the weekly hour with each client, as you do now.

What Autora does

EBOOK

Writes it from your posts, designs it, hosts it, sells it and delivers it.

ONLINE COURSE

Turns your footage into the course, hosts it, sells it and delivers it.

GROUP COACHING

The sales page, booking, payments, onboarding and marketing around your sessions.

ONE-TO-ONE

The sales page, booking, payments, onboarding and marketing around your sessions.

You never build, host, market or sell anything yourself.

Your hours go into the two things only you can do: what you say on camera and what you say in the sessions.

OFFER DETAIL

What each offer holds

Beyond “Fine” · ebook

$29INSIDE

The settings and timing that get teens talking: the car, the walk, side by side doing something together. For each, when it tends to work and openers to use.

THE PROMISE

Fewer one-word answers, because you pick the moment instead of asking face-to-face as the bag hits the floor.

YOUR PART

Autora writes it from your posts; all you do is confirm you're happy for it to go out.

FIRST STEP

Run the story question (page 9) so the openers follow where your parents say their teens talk most.

The right place, the right moment · course

$200INSIDE

Self-paced video lessons on choosing the setting and the moment for the talks that matter, built around the answers to your story question.

THE PROMISE

A parent who knows when and where to start the conversation, not just what to say.

YOUR PART

You film the lessons and send Autora the footage. Autora turns it into the course, hosts it, sells it and delivers it.

FIRST STEP

Post the test (page 10). If parents comment “TALK”, film the lessons around what they asked for.

One-to-one · 8 weeks

$1,500

INSIDE	The paid, 8-week version of the one-to-one work you already do with parents and teens: one hour a week per client.
THE PROMISE	Your full attention on one family's conversations for eight weeks.
YOUR PART	You run the sessions. Autora handles the sales page, booking, payments, onboarding and marketing.
FIRST STEP	Keep the coffee chat as the way in, with the paid programme as the next step after it.
ESTIMATE	$1,500 to $30,000 per 8 weeks; with 48 buyers, one-to-one could make you 48 x $1,500 = $72,000 a year.

LAUNCH PLAN

Three steps, in order

Nothing gets built before your parents tell you what they want. Each step uses what the one before it found.

1Ask first

A story question asking parents where their teen talks most: the car, a walk or side by side.

Post it alongside the test post on page 10. The answers decide which setting the ebook and course lead with.

2Film the course around the answers

Film one lesson per setting your parents named, in the order they ranked them, then send Aurora the footage.

After the story answers and the “TALK” comments are in. Aurora turns it into the course and writes the ebook alongside it.

3Waitlist, then launch with a real close

Open a waitlist, starting with parents who applied for a free round, then launch with a clear date and a real close.

The group cohort and the paid one-to-one sit behind the same waitlist, for parents who want you with them.

What not to do

Don't invent demand: “a few spots” is your own framing for the free rounds, not a waiting list. And no clinical claims about teens; this is coaching on conversations, in your voice.

TEST BEFORE YOU BUILD

The first post

A four-slide carousel in your voice. It tests one thing: whether parents want a short course on the right setting and timing.

- 1 “Fine.” The one-word answer every parent of a teen knows.
- 2 Some conversations go better in the car, on a walk, or side by side doing something together.
- 3 I’m thinking of a short course on the right setting and timing for the talks that matter.
- 4 Comment “TALK” if you’d want it.

Caption

They dump their backpack, slump into the couch, and stare at their phone.

Me: “How was your day?”

Them: “Fine.”

And yet... sometimes it just comes out. In the car. On a walk. Side by side, doing something together. Timing and how we approach it can matter just as much as what we say.

I’m thinking of putting what I’ve learned into a short course. If that’s something you’d want, comment TALK and I’ll keep you posted.

The opening lines are from your own post about getting your teen to talk. Count the “TALK” comments and the story answers before anything is filmed.

NEXT STEPS

From “what is happening?!” to “we’ve got this”

You already help parents get there, one family at a time. This is how more of them get there without more of your hours.

1Post the story question and the test carousel

Where does your teen talk most? Then the four slides, with the “TALK” comment.

2Read the answers with Autora

We look at the comments together and agree what the ebook and course lead with.

3Confirm the ebook, film the course

Autora writes and runs the rest; you open the waitlist to the parents who applied for a free round.

Reply to this DM and I’ll walk you through the numbers and what to build first.

All figures are estimates based on your public profile data and this audit, using a fixed model: 5% of followers engaged, 5% of those buying, fixed prices for each product.

How it was made: Euan builds automations and used AI for the analysis, which is why this took an evening rather than a fortnight.
