WHAT YOUR NUMBERS SAY

People don't follow you for tips. They follow you for the truth.

Your bio makes a clear promise: quick fixes don't work, recovery is earned. That promise is already the product. It just isn't for sale yet beyond a free consultation.

The content that works

- Your "You want to talk about strength?" post, about surviving the anxiety cycle day after day, has 105 comments, the most of any recent post.
- The video where you put a face to the page has 98 comments and 6,175 views. When people see you, they talk to you.
- "Too far gone to recover" drew 35 comments. Hope for the person who thinks they are the exception lands hard.
- Your recent text carousels (September and October 2026) get 0 to 7 comments. The writing is as strong; what is missing is your face and a direct question.

Who is listening

People living with disordered anxiety and panic, deep enough in it that every day feels like survival, who have tried the quick fixes and want someone who will tell them how recovery actually goes: symptoms, setbacks and all.

Your bio already offers a free consultation, so some are already asking you for one-to-one help. The paid offers are built on that demand.

Your three content pillars

01

Recovery is earned

Hard days after lighter ones, symptoms you don't like, the moments you want to feel better now. Discomfort as part of the work.

02

Thoughts aren't orders

With disordered anxiety, the thoughts and sensations are convincing but not rational. Criticism, self-doubt and mourning who you used to be.

03

Fear's invisible cage

People pleasing, needing control, the captivity no one else can see. How anxiety shapes the way you live and relate.

WHERE THE NUMBER COMES FROM

Every figure, worked out in the open.

All figures are estimates. They use one fixed model for every account Autora audits, applied to your public follower count.

F · Followers

24,775

Your public follower count (public data)

E · Engaged audience

1,238 people

5% of F = $24,775 \times 0.05 = 1,238.75$, rounded down

B · Buyers

61 people

5% of E = $1,238 \times 0.05 = 61.9$, rounded down (0.25% of F)

PRODUCT	PRICE	WHAT THE FIGURE RESTS ON	REVENUE (ESTIMATE)
Ebook	$29	61 buyers × $29	$1,769
Online course	$200	61 buyers × $200	$12,200
Group coaching 8 weeks, one-to-many	$500	2 to 8 people per cohort; six cohorts a year hold 48 places, and your 61 buyers fill them	$1,000—$4,000 per cohort $24,000 a year
One-to-one coaching 8 weeks, 1 hour a week	$1,500	1 to 20 hours a week (1 to 20 clients at a time); a year holds up to 120 programmes, capped at your 61 buyers	$1,500—$30,000 per 8 weeks $91,500 a year

Prices are fixed by the model. Each product's estimate stands on its own: the same 61 likely buyers are used for each product, so the figures are alternatives to compare, not a total to add up.

WHERE THE NUMBER COMES FROM · CONTINUED

The coaching ranges, and the range itself.

Group coaching · $500

Per 8-week cohort $1,000–$4,000
2 to 8 people × $500

A year $24,000
6 cohorts × 8 places = 48 places; 61 buyers ≥ 48, so 48 × $500

One-to-one · $1,500

Per 8 weeks $1,500–$30,000
1 to 20 clients × $1,500

A year $91,500
6 blocks × 20 = 120 places, but only 61 buyers, so 61 × $1,500

With 61 buyers, one-to-one could make you $61 \times $1,500 = $91,500$ a year. That means roughly ten clients at a time across six 8-week blocks, about ten hours of sessions a week.

Minimum $1,769
Ebook sales: $61 \times $29$

Maximum $91,500
One-to-one year figure (bigger than group at $24,000 and the course at $12,200)

Median $7,350
Figures in order: $1,769, $2,500, $12,200, $15,750. Middle two: $($2,500 + $12,200) \div 2$

Mean $8,054.75
 $($1,769 + $12,200 + $2,500 + $15,750) \div 4 = $32,219 \div 4$

Mid-range $46,634.50
 $(\text{Minimum} + \text{maximum}) \div 2 = ($1,769 + $91,500) \div 2$

Median and mean count each coaching product at the middle of its 8-week range: group $2,500 (between $1,000 and $4,000) and one-to-one $15,750 (between $1,500 and $30,000). The mid-range uses the year maximum. All are estimates.

FIRST STEP

Tell us how many hours a week you want to coach.

LAUNCH PLAN

Three steps, built on what already works.

Your face and a direct question drive the conversation on your page. Each step uses both.

01

WEEK 1

Test the demand

Post the carousel on the next page and run the story poll alongside it. Then post a short face-to-camera video saying why you're putting your recovery work into a guide. Your intro video drew 98 comments; this is the same move with a reason to reply.

Count the GUIDE comments and the "I need more than a guide" votes. The first tells us the ebook and course demand; the second tells us who wants coaching.

02

WEEKS 2–3

Release the ebook

Autora drafts the guide from your captions and you approve it. It goes live at $29 through your link in bio. Everyone who commented GUIDE hears first. Over the fortnight, post one carousel from each pillar, each ending with the guide.

03

WEEKS 4–8

Open the coaching, film the course

Open the first Recovery Room cohort to the people who voted for more than a guide and to ebook buyers. Your free consultation link becomes the way into Recovery, One to One. Meanwhile, film the course modules; Autora builds it and launches it to everyone who bought the guide.

YOUR FIRST POST

Ask before anything is built.

A carousel in your own format and voice. It tests whether your followers want your recovery work in one place, and asks what they're stuck on, so the guide answers it.

QUICK FIXES DON'T WORK. SO LET'S DO THE REAL THING.

You already know quick fixes don't work. You've tried them.

You've had the lighter days, then hit a really hard time and felt like you were right back at the start. You've obeyed the thoughts because they felt so convincing. You've kept the peace, said yes, and lost a bit more of yourself every time.

I'm putting everything I know about getting through that into one place. A straight-talking guide to recovery that's earned, raw and real. What a setback actually means. Why your symptoms aren't instructions. How to get out of the cage no one else can see.

Before I finish it, I want to know what you need most.

Comment GUIDE and tell me the one part of recovery you keep getting stuck on. I read every comment, and everyone who comments hears first when it's ready.

The fuckery stops here.

STORY, SAME DAY

Poll: "Would a no-bullshit anxiety recovery guide help you right now?" Options: "Yes, I need this" / "I need more than a guide". The second answer is your coaching waitlist.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

The time is now.
Your words already did the hard part.

01

Reply and say yes to the ebook draft. It costs you nothing but a read.

02

Post the GUIDE carousel and story poll to test the demand.

03

Choose your coaching hours, and we'll build the rest around them.

Reply to this DM and I'll walk you through the numbers and what to build first.

PREPARED BY EUAN GRANT · AUTORA AI AUTOMATION · OCTOBER 2026

All figures are estimates based on public profile data (24,775 followers, comments on recent posts) and this audit's fixed model. They are not guarantees of income.

How this was made: I build automations, and I used AI for the analysis, which is why this took an evening rather than a fortnight.
